

PRESS RELEASE 29.05.2019

When it's at its most beautiful - one should continue!

According to this principle, the Riders Club Luxembourg invites the international dressage elite to the second edition of its CDI4* in Leudelange. On six days, from 2 to 7 July to be precise, a total of 29 tests are on the program. "This is no longer a marathon race, but rather has the dimension of a triathlon," laughs Tournament Director Christof Umbach, "but it's also a lot of fun. Especially when the feedback is as positive as it was at our first tournament last year". That gives already mighty tail wind, particularly since already now and still clearly before entry deadline numerous Top riders would have asked for starting places. "We expect a super international field with riders from over 25 nations", Christof Umbach reveals.

In the end, there will again be around 200 horses and ponies competing in the two Grand Prix Tours, the Medium and Small Tour, the U25, Young Riders, Juniors and Pony Riders or in the international competitions for five-, six- and seven-year-old young horses as well as the Almased Amateur Tour. "The highlights will of course again be the Grand Prix Floodlight Freestyle on Saturday and the Grand Prix Special on Sunday".

And are there any innovations compared to the first edition of the tournament? "Yes, we will definitely expand the exhibitor and catering area, because our idea of combining our sport with lifestyle and good food was very well received."

That riders and horses will find optimal conditions in Leudelange is guaranteed by the venue, the Ecurie des Prés facility of the Sunnen family, and the Dressage Grand-Ducal initiators team, which includes Christof Umbach, Patrice Mourreau and Luxembourg's number one dressage rider, Sascha Schulz.
